Emigration to Florida.

The Thomasville (Ga.) Enterprise says:

"Every few days trains of carts, wagons and other vehicles pass through Thomasville on their way to the 'Everglades' in search of new homes. We saw numbers of them last year on the same road, but there seemed also a small stream flowing in the direction of Alabama. Those two States appear to be exchanging citizens. Our exchanges from every quarter speak of immense numbers of emigrants moving in various directions, but especially westward. Memphis seems to be the favorite place for crossing the Mississippi.

"The war uprooted society in the South, and broke entirely up the love of the people for their old haunts—hence the general change of locality. We believe that not less than one-half of the Southern white people have changed homes since the war, and about one-third of them have changed places. This shows a very unsettled state of the Southern mind, consequent, perhaps, upon the emancipation of the slaves, and their want of confidence in the justice and magnanimity of the government."

Colored Barber Nearly Elected Mayor.

A special election for Mayor took place this afternoon. The candidates were the present incumbent, Hon. John Abbott, Republican, Charles H. Proctor, a respectable colored barber, for a citizen's reform ticket, and Dr. Goodwin, the temperance nominee. Returns have been received from all the wards but Fisherville, which gave Abbott 554, Proctor 345, Goodwin 97, and scattering 48. At three o'clock it was reported that Proctor had the lead, which caused considerable excitement. The Abbott men immediately rallied, and the election of their candidate was made sure. Proctor's vote came mainly from the Democrats.—Concord. N. H., Despatch, April 2, to the Boston Journal.

State Republican Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, April 9.—The Republican State Committee have called a convention on the 26th of June.

United States Senate—Extra Session.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Mr. Trumbull introduced a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Secretary of War to furnish the Senate a list of the names of volunteer officers now in the service of the government, their rank and the particular duties assigned to them, that he inform the Senate under what law they are retained, and whether some of them may not be dispensed with without detriment to the public service.

NEW RULE PROPOSED.

Mr. Anthony offered a resolution proposing a new rule, that all resolutions calling on the Executive, or any department, for information, shall be referred to one standing committee, with power to fix the probable cost of furnishing the required information.

Mr. Anthony said such calls were frequently made without knowing the cost involved, clerks having to be employed for weeks to prepare transcripts, sometimes of little value. It would be well to ascertain the amount of labor required in such, and whether the result would justify the outlay.

Mr. Trumbull suggested the resolution be referred to the Committee on Printing.

GOVERNOR OF COLORADO.

Mr. Thayer said it would be recollected that during the last session of the Thirty-Ninth Congress the Senator from Ohio (Mr. Wade) offered a resolution making inquiry into the President of the United States in regard to the absence of Alexander Cummings, Governor of Colorado, from that territory, and how long he had been absent. That resolution was modified before being passed to call for information regarding the absence of other executive officers from their posts. Thayer would now inquire whether any response had yet been received to that resolution.

The Chair replied that no reply had been received.

Mr. Thayer offered a resolution that the President be requested to inform the Senate when Alexander Cummings was appointed governor of Colorado Territory, how much of the time said Cummings had been absent from the Territory since his appointment, and whether by permission, and the length of said time absent with permission and without permission, and whether on public business or not, whether the salary, if any, has been paid to him during his absence or not, and how much paid to him as salary for the time he has been absent.

Mr. Thayer said he had been informed by gentlemen who had opportunities of knowing the facts, that Gov. Cummings, who was appointed Governor less than two years ago, had been absent from the territory during that time. He was now absent, having been there some four months. He, therefore, regarded it his duty to bring this case to the notice of the Senate. He knew of governors going to be absent year after year, and go out to them, now and then, as it were, on pleasure trips. Such absences have become so habitual as to require the interposition of Congress.

Mr. Buckalew desired his resolution to go over until to-morrow. He should regret to have the resolution passed, and the senate adjourn without a response from the President, and with the ex parte statement of the Senate before the country. There were explanations to be given as far as Gov. Cummings' present absence was concerned.

The Chair said if objection was made to the consideration of the resolution it would go over.

ARMY REGISTER.

Mr. Anthony submitted an order that two thousand copies of the Army Register be printed for the use of the Senate. The order was referred to the Committee on Printing.

On motion of Mr. Ramsey the Senate went into Executive Session.

ENGLAND.

DIFFICULTY ABOUT LUXEMBOURG THE CAUSE OF THE PANIC.

LONDON, April 9.—Evening.—It is now known that Napoleon, deeming the possession of Luxembourg indispensable for the military security of the French frontier, not long since commenced negotiations with the king of Holland for the purchase of the Grand Duchy and its incorporation with the French Empire; but as the fortress of Luxembourg, which is one of the strongest fortifications in Europe, is held by a Prussian garrison, and the Prussian Government, backed by the whole of Germany, firmly objects to the transfer of the Duchy to France, the King of Holland has withdrawn from any further negotiations on the subject. The French Emperor insists his propositions shall be carried out and a treaty completed. The national pride of France has been deeply wounded, and a wild anti-Prussian feeling has seized the country. Meantime, while the dispute is pending, both Prussia and France are making military preparations. This threatening state of affairs is the cause of the financial panic which now exists in London, Paris, and all the principal centres of Europe.

Allegheny Board of Control.

The Board of Control of the Public Schools of Allegheny held an adjourned meeting last evening, in the Sandusky street school house.

Present: Messrs. Barr, Brown, Barker, Breckert, Benny, Dunlap, Francis, Kollock, Loomis, Lea, Lockhart, Pitcairn, Scott and White.

In the absence of the President, John Brown, Jr., was called to the chair.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mr. Scott.

The Chairman announced the meeting had been called for the purpose of considering the practicability of consolidating the School Boards of Allegheny City and the late borough of Manchester.

Mr. Francis stated that he had communicated with J. P. Wickersham, State Superintendent of Common Schools, in regard to the proposed consolidation of the School Boards, and had received the following reply:

PENN'A DEP'T OF COMMON SCHOOLS,
HARRISBURG, March 12, 1867.

R. B. FRANCIS, ESQ.—SIR: I have examined the act to which you refer. This question in regard to the management of the schools of the consolidated city is not very definite, but my opinion in regard to your question is as follows:

First—The act does consolidate the city and borough for school purposes, which city will hereafter form one school district.

Second—The act allows thirty days to the officers of the borough in which to close their business. Of course this does not include the School Directors. It would, perhaps, have been better to have allowed them to continue to act as before, until the end of the school year, and I am inclined to think they ought to do so still, since the school law, which is not repealed by this act, requires such continuance until the first Monday in June next.

Third—The Board of Directors of the Borough, either as a body, or by representatives, has been ordered to join the Board of Control of the consolidated city as soon as their functions expire within their proper jurisdiction. It is their duty to perform their duties, as heretofore, as here recommended, until the first Monday in June. The influence of the present Directors for the ward of the consolidated city, and should be allowed seats in the Board of Control. This is more important, as they are applied to controllers from other wards of the city. Yours, respectfully,

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
State Superintendent Common Schools.

On motion, the members of the School Board from the Manchester district were invited to participate in the proceedings of the meeting.

Mr. Chadwick, Secretary of the Manchester Board, read the following, and stated he had been adopted by the Board which he represented:

Whereas, The Legislature of Assembly providing for the annexation of the Borough of Manchester to the city of Allegheny makes no provision for the transfer of the property of the Schools of said corporation; and, whereas, we believe it to be for the interest of the Valley that the schools of Manchester should be consolidated with the schools of said city, and placed under the management of the Board of Control of said city as soon as practicable; therefore

Resolved, That we propose to the Board of Control of the city of Allegheny, and the city of this district, shall take our seats in said Board, giving our consent to become members of said Board also subject to the rules and regulations under our care in the same rules and regulations adopted for the government of the schools of said city, reserving the right to the Manchester School District until the end of June, being the end of the school year, and if any inconvenience results to any one interested, for the purposes, at the time, it will be proper to the Treasurer of the Board of Control, and all the indebtedness of this district shall be assumed by said Board.

The preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted. Messrs. Brown, Rowan, McClelland, Trimble, Boreland and Christian were admitted as members of the Board.

The Board then adjourned.

Amendment of the Constitution.

A convention of those in western Pennsylvania favorable to the amendment of the National Constitution so as to contain a more distinct acknowledgment of God and Jesus Christ as the Prince of the Kings of the Earth, assembled in the First United Presbyterian Church, (Rev. W. J. Reid's) Seventh street, last evening, at 7½ o'clock. The Rev. Thomas C. Guthrie, D. D., was elected to the chair and invoked the Divine benediction on the great object for which the convention had assembled. Rev. John M. Dodds, D. D., was appointed Secretary. The Chairman then stated the object which had brought them together.

Dr. Sproull moved that a committee be appointed to nominate permanent officers for the Convention, to report this morning. The Chairman appointed Messrs. John Sproull and John Douglas and Josiah Copley, Esq.

A committee, consisting of Rev. Dr. Easton, Rev. A. M. Milligan, Dr. Edwards and Thomas Smith, Esq., was appointed to prepare business for the Convention.

Rev. John Jones, D. D., and, in 1865, President of Washington and Jefferson College, addressed the Assembly at considerable length. He said the people were struggling to get the Constitution amended. The object of the Convention would be achieved sooner or later.

Rev. A. Donaldson, D. D., of Indiana county, felt perfect sympathy in what Dr. Edwards had said, namely, that it was perilous for men to quit the paths of truth in important subject. Some were afraid of infringing on the rights of others in the matter of religion. But the rights of men than on the rights of God. If this thing were done no intelligent Jew could object, because he believes that every government is carried out on this principle, and a formal recognition of it would not be any more an infringement on his rights.

On motion the Convention adjourned to meet this morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Donaldson concluding by prayer.

Benefit

On Friday evening next our young friend Sidney Marlowe will be the recipient of a complimentary benefit, at the Opera House, when he will essay for the first time the different role of "Hamlet." As this is acknowledged by the most astute of Shakespearian critics to be the great author's masterpiece, it is a matter of some surprise that Mr. Marlowe should attempt it, yet for this reason he should receive credit, showing, as it does, that he has courage and ambition, which tempered with study may yet make him a great actor. As the gentleman has many warm personal friends in this city, the house will doubtless be a jam. Speaking of benefits reminds us of the fact that J. M. Cook, who has toiled industriously in the Opera House Stock Company, both this and last season, is up for a benefit to-morrow night, when an immense bill, including the drama of "The Horrors of Paris" will be presented. Remember Mr. Cook quite a number of years and in that time have seen him fill acceptably many responsible parts. He is never remiss in the text, while his playing at times is really excellent. We predict for him a crowded house.

Attempted Rape—Matthew Ling appeared before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, and made oath charging a young man named William Foster with an attempt to commit a rape on the person of a little daughter of the deponent aged seven years. The mother of the little girl on discovering the accused in the attempt, "pitched into him" and gave him a severe castigation, after which he was arrested and brought before the Alderman, who committed him to jail in default of $1,000.

Fred Douglass at City Hall.

Frederick Douglass, the eloquent colored orator, lectured last night in City Hall to a large and intelligent audience on "The Sources of Danger to the Republic."

The Speaker began by reverring to the Constitution, which he believed to be a very good piece of civil machinery, yet has perfect—not strong enough. It had failed to punish traitors, and the speaker added: A nation that does not hate treason does not love loyalty. They point us to the fact that thousands of traitors have been shot down without crime in the South since the war, and that no effort is made to arrest and punish the murderers. If this government was what it claims to be, there would be no place of hiding so secure as to shelter the murderers of loyal men. But to-day they walk about the streets of Memphis and New Orleans, smoking their cigars, and no hand is raised to molest them.

His own early education, the speaker said, was not very favorable to securing his reverence to the Constitution, and especially not to the peculiar institution. But even he could speak reverently of its framers. They gave us a Constitution as broad as nature, and free from caste and complexional distinctions. In its eyes we are neither white nor black, but only citizens. They who claim that this is a "white man's Government" find little support in the Constitution. It does not base men's rights in the form of their nose and the length of their heels. Those who claim that the negro resembles the monkey, forget that the monkey has no heel, and so the longer the negro's heel the further he is removed from the monkey. [Laughter.] In the Constitution the poor and lowest slaves is recognized as a man, and as soon as his claims are proven, he may rise to any position for which his ability fits him.

After dwelling at considerable length on the principles of the Constitution, the speaker went on to say: The first source of our danger is the one-man power in our Government. But the people are rising up to the existence and the danger of this power. If Jefferson Davis taught us the folly of reading the slave power into the Constitution, Andrew Johnson may be said to have taught us the folly of the one-man power. If the Constitution had been strong enough it will prove to be a blessing in disguise—though partly horribly disguised. [Laughter.] Mr. Seward introduced Andrew Johnson to the people of Michigan as their King. We have laughed at this, but there is something in it. The President is invested with something of kingly power which he may use to the hurt of the people. And now Johnson, in some of the conditions of mind which have for quite a time possessed him, has seemed to imagine himself not only the King of the United States, but the King of the United States.

In speaking of the veto power he said: Another source of danger is the veto power. He knew not why this exotic was engrafted upon our Government. It is anti-republican and anti-democratic. It is contrary to the will of the people. It is based upon the absurdity that one man is more than twenty-five millions. The influence of the people, more than the will of one man, that one man surrounded by his cliques will be likely to arrive at correct conclusions. More justice, more principles, than will the immediate representatives of the people coming directly from them. We do not believe that one head was heavier than two hundred; that Andrew Johnson was greater than the senate. The only thing we owe to the fact that seven States are unrepresented that Andrew Johnson does not rule Congress. What is wanted of the President is only inquire what is the law and execute it. It is remarkable that while the veto power is entirely consistent with a monarchical government, which has not suffered one man to land for a century and a half, and it would nearly cost Victoria her crown to veto the bills passed for the people, that over here it is in direct violation of the spirit of the Constitution, we can have a little veto every Valid bill has been vetoed, and the last (Laughter.) It is because we are used to it, that the legislative bodies of England are inferior to the Congress of the United States, and while the one is never vetoed the other is constantly vetoed; though in the former case they are not backed by veto, and in the other directly opposed to it.

The argument for this veto power is that the people must be a check, that without it mobocracy may be arbitrary. But if they are ever arbitrary, it is to those who are not voters. If a remedy is to be applied, let the Government impartial to all citizens. But if a check is wanted, it is found in the Supreme Court, much better than in the President individual," or in any one individual. The gentleman then proceeded to treat the subject of Negro Suffrage at length, and concluded by putting in a strong plea for universal suffrage.

Ristori's Second Night.

Ristori, the queen of tragedy, the greatest representative of the world's theatrical stage, made her second appearance in this city last evening to the most brilliant and fashionable audience which ever assembled in our staid old city. Every seat was occupied, every aisle and nook of the commodious Opera House was crowded with those anxious to pay tribute with their presence to the great artiste. The audience on the previous evening was grand, but that of last night surpassed it as it had surpassed any which ever graced the stage in Pittsburgh. As Mary, Queen of Scots, Ristori appeared. The soul of Schiller in proper hands could not have been more ably called from the grave to life. Ristori, discarding history and adding to it, has given us the true picture of the character of Mary as born anew from the imagination of the immortal poet, interpreted by the genius of a master. It is impossible for any other living artiste, the conception of the bard. The acting on her part was grand, the reading of the fatal-fated Queen was touching, was grand, was wonderful. From humility to pride, from pride to love, from disdain to absolute contempt, history carried her part, words, D. D., President of Washington and Jefferson College, addressed the Assembly at considerable length. He said the people were struggling to get the Constitution amended. The object of the Convention would be achieved sooner or later.

Rev. A. Donaldson, D. D., of Indiana county, felt perfect sympathy in what Dr. Edwards had said, namely, that it was perilous for men to quit the paths of truth in important subject. Some were afraid of infringing on the rights of others in the matter of religion. But the rights of men than on the rights of God. If this thing were done no intelligent Jew could object, because he believes that every government is carried out on this principle, and a formal recognition of it would not be any more an infringement on his rights.

On motion the Convention adjourned to meet this morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Donaldson concluding by prayer.

SHIP CANALS.

For some years past, and particularly during the last few months, the project of enlarging the Illinois canal, which extends from Lake Michigan at Chicago to the Mississippi river at La Salle, has been persistently urged upon the attention of Congress. This scheme is coupled with another, for the construction of a ship canal around the Falls of the Niagara, on the American side, so as to afford, within our own territory, ship communication between the basin of the Mississippi and Lake Ontario. In passing thence to sea, the passage would have, of course, to be through the British Provinces, following the Niagara river. The execution of these two designs would be of special benefit to Chicago, and incidentally to the whole country, upon the principle that what promotes the welfare of a part must do good to the whole. It is conceivable, moreover, that in the mutations of political affairs another rebellion may happen, or a war with a foreign power occur, in which the passage of gunboats from the Lakes to the Mississippi, or from the Mississippi to the Lakes, may be of public utility.

Upon the same considerations the enlargement, by the national government, of the Erie Canal, extending from Albany to Buffalo, and connecting the Hudson river with Lake Erie, has been pressed. It is apparent that peculiar commercial advantages would result from the consummation of this suggestion, and that some day or other the enlarged line might be profitable as an avenue either of military offence or defence.

In view of urgency in behalf of these two projects Mr. LOWRY, of Erie, introduced to the State Senate, and that body passed, the following preamble and resolution:

"WHEREAS, A passage for gunboats between the Ohio river and the great lakes is greatly needed for the national protection and security; and whereas, the national prosperity would be vastly multiplied by the opening of such a highway for the purpose of commerce; and whereas, the national Congress has manifested its desire for the opening of such a channel, by ordering the survey of sundry routes; therefore, be it Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That our Representatives are hereby requested, and our Senators instructed, to urge upon Congress the passage of an act to open such a channel by the way of the Pennsylvania Erie canal from the mouth of the Beaver river, on the Ohio, to Lake Erie, at the city of Erie, a distance of 128) one hundred and twenty eight miles, which, in the judgment of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, can be accomplished by using the Erie Extension canal at a trifling cost to the Government, and the same can be kept in repair at the expense of the Erie Canal Company, for the use of the Government at all times, not to exceed one million of dollars."

This scheme rests on precisely the same basis as the other two, and has full as much to commend it. In a public point of view it has more; because at this point unequalled facilities for the manufacture of cannon. There is no novelty in the idea of this enlargement, for it has been repeatedly pressed in former years.

Probably the time will come when all three of these plans will be realized. But that time must be compartively distant, unless a wilder frenzy for lavish National expenditures than even that which now prevails shall unfortunately fall upon the Government. Manifestly this is no time to increase the burdens of the people in behalf of objects that can be reasonably delayed. The wisdom—nay, the imperative duty—of the Government, is rigid retrenchment. A decided diminution of internal taxes will go far towards adjusting the disagreements prevailing in all parts of the country between proprietors and workmen. It is folly to seek out fresh objects for expenditure until public burdens shall be carried with much greater ease than now..

STATE ROBBERY.

Talking, a few years ago, with a noted lobbyist at Harrisburg, he frankly confessed he and his kind had relieved the Commonwealth of pretty much all the property it had worth plundering. During the past session a systematic effort has been made to gather up and carry off the fragments that remained, and this endeavor has been crowned with a large measure of success. If the accounts are true, and we think they are, the bottom of the Treasury has been cleaned out, and a round deficit left. Nor is this all. An attempt was made to rob the Sinking Fund of $800,000, for preventing which the people seem to be indebted to Mr. WALLACE, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee. He raised the point that by the plain words of the Constitution, the revenues derived from certain sources were pledged to the liquidation of the public indebtedness, and could not be applied to general purposes.

This compelled a cutting down of the financial budget, which looked to the expenditure of $1,000,000 more than the estimated income; and this, notwithstanding what the Chinese call "a squeeze" of least $700,000, had been made on the four or five New York Coal Companies operating in Luzerne county. The slashing commenced on the penal and charitable institutions. Dixmont was lowered from $85,000 to $60,000; which signifies that the new wing may wait for completion. All the other establishments were cut down in a similar proportion. We do not hear that the $500,000, given to certain border counties, as indemnity for losses by rebel raids, was recanted. There was said to be $100,000 stealings in that arrangement.

But the members got conscientious, or something else, over their salaries. Having voted themselves more wages than the law allowed, they concluded not to take it, because the money could not be found.

Let the people be thankful that the session will end to-morrow.

IMMIGRATION to this country from Europe is very large this spring, though it may be impeded by a late order of Prussia withholding passports to young men until they shall serve twelve years in the army. Very few of the immigrants arriving go South, notwithstanding efforts made to influence them in that direction. A large proportion, mainly mechanics, manufacturers and laborers, remain near the coast, because they feel the need of immediate employment. This is one of the causes that cheapens labor in all that section, enabling proprietors of mills and shops to compete successfully with those farther inland. Most of the immigrants who are farmers proceed directly west, many of them expecting to join friends or acquaintances who preceded them.

THE BALANCE OF POWER.

For a hundred years at least much has been said and written by French and British statesmen and journalists, about the Balance of Power in Europe, its necessity, its nature, and the means for maintaining it. Of course this continued discussion has embraced the existence of small states, their dependence, the consequence thereof upon the political equilibrium, and whether they hinder or help the progress of society on that continent. All this talking and writing has been permeated with one idea, which is that it will not do to let any State become so formidable in population and resources as to over-top England and France. For those two powers to increase, ratably to each other, has been regarded as well enough; as, also, for them to dominate, either separately or in conjunction, over other nations.

The recent leap of Prussia from a second or third rate nation to the very headship of Europe has disturbed the old Balance of Power very decidedly. Prussia now towers above France as much as France towered above her five years ago. When the difference was in favor of France the situation was admirable; now that it stands in favor of Prussia it is execrable; in the estimation of Gallic publicists. For Paris to give law to Europe is one thing. For Berlin to give it is quite another.

When NAPOLEON I. issued his decree declaring the German Empire dissolved, he not only announced a fact, but indicated a desire the dissolution might be perpetual. The instinct of nationality has proved too enduring and powerful for the conqueror. Germany is coming together again more perfectly than for many ages. No wonder there is a commotion among nations that have thought they were permanently the arbiters of destiny.

For some days telegraphic dispatches from Europe have indicated that France, baffled and circumvented by BISMARCK for five years, has resolved to resort to arms, in the hope either of obtaining territorial aggrandizement or of crushing the greatness of Prussia before it shall be solidified by time. These dispatches are necessarily brief and unsatisfactory; but they indicate with tolerable certainty that events of high moment are approaching.

THE CHOLERA.

On Saturday, a letter from Judge JNO. M. REED was presented to the Legislature containing the statement that the cholera has re-appeared in New York, and recommending legislation to check its ravages. It was demonstrated last year in New York that this epidemic is amenable to sanitary precautions; that personal and municipal cleanliness are the chief means of prevention and of lessening mortality after the pestilence shall actually have been developed.

The past winter was of uncommon severity, and hence there is an unusual accumulation of filth, out of which a few days of fervent heat will evolve the seeds of disease. It is of prime importance that prompt and effectual measures be taken to clense, not only the principal streets, but the alleys and yards; not only the dense and crowded localities, but those in which population is comparatively sparse.

This and the adjacent corporations had a fortunate escape last year, which was owing to precautionary measures to a considerable degree. It will be most unwise to presume upon the same immunity the approaching summer.

THE change from slave to free labor at the South has suggested, and will measurably compel, an alteration in the crops of that section. Mr. J. B. ROBERTSON, of Louisiana, in an able paper, advocates an entire change, which is to let cotton and sugar go, and devote the lands to cereals. He maintains that more money can be realized from grains than the other staples; that Southern wheat is of superior quality to the Northern; that less capital will be required; and that the strain for labor will not be constant the year round. His idea is that the large plantations will be divided into small farms, and that immigration will ultimately, though not speedily, supply the place of negro labor. For the present the question is how to make the most and the best of the labor now on the ground; and this will be answered by devoting the best lands in Louisiana and other Southern States to crops that can be easily raised, which require little cultivation, which mature in the briefest time, and which, with less labor, will bring more profit than sugar or cotton.

A Singular Case.

The Fort Wayne (Ind.) Gazette gives the following account of the recovery of his speech and hearing by a boy named Stanley Marshall, who lost both in consequence of the attack of lung fever about a year and a half ago:

A week or ten days ago, George Lloyd and others, who had for some time before taken a good deal of interest in the boy, conceived the idea of restoring his hearing by means of some violent shock. They fired a pistol over his head, and within a few inches of his ear, but it made no impression. Some one told him that a liberal use of liquor would cure him, and taking a notion to try the experiment, last Monday afternoon he pawned his pocket-book for a glass of whiskey. Mr. Lloyd coming in (at Strong's eating house) and finding him tipsy, determined to carry the experiment further, and kept giving him more whisky, until he was quite drunk, and then commenced a rubbing and shaking that shortly resulted in return of hearing. He rubbed the ears of the boy until the skin was broken, and shook him until he was almost as tired of the exercise as the boy was of rather would have been if sober. Suddenly something seemed to break loose in his chest or throat. There was the report like the popping of a cork from a bottle of mineral water, and the boy called Lloyd a "fool"—the first word he had spoken for over a year. He soon began to talk more freely; his speech coming back in broken accents like those of a child. He went to bed quite sick that night, and woke up the next morning quite well and sore from the harsh treatment of the day before, but able to talk and hear nearly as well as ever. The boy says that when his speech returned it seemed as if a weight was lifted from his lungs—he felt as if something in him had "busted" and got in both ears.

IN A RECENT LETTER, something was said of the vindictiveness of literary people. Pages might be written on thisSubject with illustrations. A New York printing poem, one resident in New York, and one in Boston, and both of no inconsiderable reputation, hate each other with the fury of a scorned woman, lose no opportunity of procuring the publication of sneers and slurs upon each other, and wonder, in presence of their friends, why so and so is so bitter. A reverend author of this city spends a good deal of his time in abusing a popular monthly magazine, simply because his contributions thereto have been "declined, with thanks." But one of the most remarkable evidences of this literary eccentricity appears in a recent New York case. A divine of that city wrote and published a volume of essays, not long ago. It was received with general favor by the critics; but one "leading journal" devoted an editorial column to its annihilation. The review was one of the finest specimens of the slaughtering style of review I ever saw, but its animus was plain enough. The writer of it came to New York some years ago unknown and unfriended. By the kindness of the reverend author, he was put upon his feet and given an opportunity to display his great powers. To pull it mildly, his moral nature was weaker than his intellectuals, and his eternal friend found it necessary to warn the reverend of a family into which he had introduced the miscreant against the latter's dangerous wiles.—Boston Letter.

A HAPPY WOMAN.—Here is something for the dear, delightful creatures. A happy woman! Is not she the very sparkle and sunshine of life? A woman who is happy because she can't help it—whose smile even the coldest sprinkle of Misfortune can not dampen. Men make a terrible mistake when they marry for beauty, for talent, or for style; the sweetest wivesare those who possess the magic secret of being contented under any circumstances. Rich or poor, high or low, it makes no difference; the bright little fountain of joy bubbles up just as musically in their hearts.

Terrific Earthquake at Mytelene—Over a Thousand Lives Lost—Heartrending Scenes.

On Thursday, the 6th, the weather had been close and unwholesomely hot; but, as this is generally the case with the south wind, which had been blowing for some time, nothing was thought of it, least of all was there any fear of what had taken place. Though volcanic, the island had not during the present generation been visited by an earthquake. About 6 P. M. a sharp shock, lasting some fifteen or eighteen seconds, vibrated throughout the town, and before the fact was well realized, was followed by a second, longer and much more violent one. It happened at the moment to be down at the pier of the Austrian Lloyd's agency, and nearly all the inmates of the house were felt on shore, saw the sea heave and foam out in the port as if a submarine explosion had taken place. Little time, however, was left for surprise. In much less time than I take to write it, the double thrill quivered through the town, and, reeling like drunken men, whole blocks of solid stone houses collapsed as if they had been card houses. Up in the town entire streets similarly crumbled, leaving great heaps of debris behind. In the ruins. The fine old castle, the cathedral, the Governor's kouak, the prison, the mosque, the Lyceum, all the ecclesiastical residences, more or less yielded to the violence of the shock, and, for the most part, were heaps of ruins. The very solidity with which the town was built aggravated the disastrous effects of the calamity a hundred fold, both as regards the loss of and destruction of property. The most complete ruin has fallen upon the lower part of the town, where the earth literally opened and swallowed up whole streets, swinging right up from the sea to the slope inland. At this point a permanent subsidence of the ground has taken place, and the sea has accordingly encroached far into what, on Thursday afternoon, was one of the busiest parts of Mytelene. In fact, to sum up the disaster, more than half of our beautiful town—the prettiest and most lively perhaps of all the Levant—is a desert of ruins. The worst part of the calamity by of course, the loss of life. As yet we can only guess at this, but it is thought by many that from 800 to 1,000 have perished, while as many more have been maimed and wounded in every way. Up till to-day 120 bodies have, I hear, been dug out of the safer ruins; but how many more may be buried under others which are too dangerous to be approached can only be surmised. Such of the houses as are still standing have all been abandoned, and the whole surviving population is now scattered over the hill-sides and among the gardens outside of the town—a few of them under such covers as they have been able to improvise, and the rest bivouacking without shelter of any kind. Any attempt to describe the scene would be but futile. Heart-rending grief, panic, and confusion meet the eye on every side. Already the want of provisions is aggravating the distress, and only a speedy supply from Smyrna or the capital can avert great loss of life. But not the town of Mytelene alone has suffered from this great calamity; it has scattered far and and death throughout the whole northern part of the Island. Hardly a village has escaped, and not merely property but life has been destroyed and nearly the whole of Molivo has been all but entirely demolished, and several hundreds of its six or seven thousand inhabitants have, it is said, perished in the ruins. It is, in fact, no exaggeration to say that half the island has been laid waste, with a sacrifice of human life that may be reckoned by thousands. No such disaster has ever befallen Mytelene.—Mytelene (March 6) Correspondent Levant Herald.

At ROUBAIX, France, on the 19th ult., 13,000 workmen employed in the cloth factories engaged in a "strike" and destroyed property to the value of a million dollars, sacking the mills and residences of their employers and devoting to destruction every description of machinery, goods and furniture. The rioters subsided on the arrival of the military.

MR. W. MILLER SAYS:

PITTSBURGH, September 4, 1865.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: I think I am only doing the part of a good citizen when I testify to the great benefits received by me from the use of your Stomach Bitters during the last five years. Sojourning on a timber line in the regions, in 1861, I had a severe bilious attack, which, in connection with dyspepsia, left me in a very weak condition. I was advised to try your Bitters, and, having procured a bottle, found that they worked like a charm upon me, eight pounds having been added to my weight in the space of one week, and new life seemed to have been infused into my system, so much so that I have been induced to use them every summer since that time. As a tonic, I think they are invaluable.

This summer, having had a similar attack, and as before, much reduced, although under the treatment of an A No. 1 physician, I was again obliged to have recourse to the old Bitters, and with the same good result, having gained six pounds within a few days. I purchased a half dozen bottles a few weeks since, and purpose to use them regularly as a tonic.

Wishing you every success, I remain,

Yours, gratefully,

WILLIAM MILLER.

COURT REPORTS,

Over and Terminer.

Before Hon. James P. Sterrett.

This Court met Tuesday at the usual hour ten o'clock, and proceeded with jury trials

VERDICT OF ACQUITTAL.

The case of Ovid Rigby and Alexander Bayne, indicted for the larceny of GAZETTE newspaper files, was proceeded with and resulted in a verdict of "not guilty."

A QUESTION OF JURISDICTION.

James Mutherron having been indicted for selling liquor without license, his counsel, Messrs. Bruce and Negley, moved to quash the indictment for the following reasons:

1. Because the Act of Assembly under which the same is framed and found is repealed.

2. Because there is no law authorizing an indictment, conviction or sentence for the acts and matters charged in the said indictment.

3. Because the Court has no jurisdiction to proceed upon the said indictment.

Like motions were made in two cases against James Williams and three against Lewis Cella.

LIQUOR SELLERS FINED.

Jacob Gutendorff, of Bloomfield, Liberty township, indicted for selling liquor without license, was brought in on process, and pleaded guilty. He was fined fifty dollars and the costs.

Patrick Kinney, of the First ward, pleaded guilty to three indictments for selling liquor without license, and was sentenced to pay fines of thirty, forty, and fifty dollars respectively on each indictment.

OFFICER CONVICTED.

Thomas W. Patterson, employed as special policeman at the Federal street (Allegheny) railroad depot, was indicted for assault and battery, on oath of Thomas Hetsersott. It appears that Patterson was at the depot and that the officer attempted to eject him therefrom, without any right so to do. Patterson having a ticket at the time and in waiting for the train. Defense was made that the officer was acting in pursuance of instructions, his attention being called to Patterson as one of those who caused annoyance about the depot, and that he was not aware of his having a ticket. The jury found a verdict of "guilty." Sentence deferred.

AN ALLEGED OUTRAGE.

Philip Heist was arraigned upon an indictment charging him with having, in the village of Stewartstown, Shaler township, a few weeks since, attempted to outrage the person of Mrs. Sarah S. Smith, at the house of Justice Smith, her uncle. The prosecutrix was called and gave her version of the transaction, which fully made out the charge. Mr. Smith testified that he heard the defendant and the prosecutrix scuffling in the basement of the house, and that he requested them to desist, else they would arouse the neighborhood. Mrs. Smith was aroused by a scream, and that was all she knew about the transaction; she told defendant that it would be better for him to be at home with his own family than scuffling at night, eleven o'clock. For the defense the defendant proved a good character for morality, and that he was not feeling a member of church, he was considered a first class young man. He had been in the army and lost his left hand by a wound. Some of the witnesses knew the prosecutrix, and were not favorably impressed with her character, from the fact of her drinking and getting drunk, and frequently finding lodgment in the tombs. The case was submitted without argument, and the hour of adjournment, twelve o'clock, intervening, the Court adjourned until ten o'clock Wednesday morning, when the jury will be charged.

Trial List for Wednesday.

Eight Hour Politics.

Horace Greeley has ever been a true friend to the working classes of America, and few will question the honesty of his convictions upon questions in which their interests are interwoven. In his paper recently appeared the following article, which shadows the plain spoken philosopher's mind in every line, and which will prove of interest to the workingmen who are clamoring for the eight hour law. He speaks nothing but the plain truth in plain words. Here is what he says:

"Mr. Ira Steward sends us a long letter, designed to prove that the Democrats carried Connecticut last Monday by virtue of their professions of devotion to the eight hour movement.

"We do not know how many votes they caught by this device, and we do not care. In so far as the alleged fraud of getting drunk, and frequently finding lodgment in the tombs. The case was submitted without argument, and the hour of adjournment, twelve o'clock, intervening, the Court adjourned until ten o'clock Wednesday morning, when the jury will be charged.

Practical Joke at a Masked Ball.

A correspondent of the Boston Bulletin writes as follows of a recent bal masque in delightful Paris:

One very clever thing was a sort of structure made to look like an ornamental marble pillar or pedestal, which was made of very light material and built around a person concealed inside. This pillar placed itself in various appropriate positions where such adornment would be useful to others, and became speedily a convenience for some couple or other who had something confidential to say, and who, supposing it to be what it seemed, withdrew into its protecting shadow, where the whole of their discourse, which they supposed to be exclusive, was witnessed and heard by the delighted occupant within; or, when two others had crowded behind it for a stolen kiss and embrace, it suddenly moves its position, leaving the apparently secure couple to the wild laughter and jeers of the masker, and the thwacks of a Parisian's sword.

Another curious and ingenious costume is that worn by four men, each representing a handsomely upholstered dining-room chair. Their feet form the fore legs, and, when walking about, the hind legs, made of some light wood, dangle behind, and the cross-bar, across the latter, forms a seat up on which the performer sits when wishing to form the chair and play off the joke, which is done in this manner; His legs, from knees to feet, form the front legs of the chair, and his arms (by means of hooks, of course, being ingeniously covered and made up to look like a chair, when the masker assumes the right position, which is done by selecting some object behind him, might, perhaps, be placed, dropping into a sitting position, the body being supported by a cross bar on the wooden hind legs, the hands placed well forward upon the knees, making the arms of the chair, the masker's hip its seat, and his breast its back. These four comfortable looking seats invite fatigued dancers, and if a pretty, young debutante chances to thrust herself into one, she is suprised to find the seat suddenly animated, its arms enfolding her, and a kiss saluting her, to the intense gratification of the masker and amusement of the crowd. On the other hand, if an individual of the masculine gender should chance to seat himself, the structure either suddenly gives way beneath him, or he is ejected out into the crowd, with the force of a stone from a catapult, and learns a lesson on the folly of trusting to appearances.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 9, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by M. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 135¼; Eighty-one bonds, 108¾; Five Twenties, old, 103; do, 1864, 107¼; 1865, 106; do, new, 107½; Ten Forties, 97½; SevenThirties, 105¾; Michigan Southern Railroad, 69½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 72½; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 91½; Erie, 35½; Chicago and Rock Island, 88¾; Chicago and Northwestern, 33¾; do preferred, 61¼; New York Central, 100½; Reading, 100⅞; Ohio and Mississippi Certificates, 24⅞@25; Penna. State Fives, par; do Sixes, 101½@102¾.

Gold opened strong to-day at 135¾, but on receipt of more favorable news from Paris declined to 134⅞. After the London quotations of American securities were received gold went up again to 135¾. Government securities were firm at noon, but sympathized with the decline in Europe, and closed weak. Stocks declined from ¼ to 1 per cent.

James T. Brady & Co. report government bonds in New York to-day, as follows:

U. S. Sixes 1881	109¼
do 5-20, 1862	108
do 1864	107¼
do 1865	107¼
Consols	134⅞
Gold	106
August, 7-30's	105½
June, 7-30's	105½

July, 7-30's.....the following items from —We extract of the New York Tribune, the stock of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, and the decline attributed to the conclusion of an arrangement between the Cleveland and Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne Railway Company and the lessees of the Cleveland and Mahoning Railway Company by which freight and passengers cars over it into Cleveland as soon as certain improvements now in progress are completed—a more substantial reason will probably be found in the financial condition of the Company, which has no money to pay the dividend promised for April. The dividends have been universally passed, and will probably be passed, and borrowed if paid. Fort Wayne is weak, under the attempts to make its last annual report show profits not warranted by a fair statement of its construction expenses, and the reduction of its supplies. A new impetus has been given to the 10 per cent dividend paid under the stimulus of the "Morse mania" in the stock, were not warranted by profits. The road will also do well if it pays 7 per cent while increasing its stock with no corresponding gain in its net income."

The same paper also says: It is plain that the banks as a whole are in no condition to expand or to offer any facility to borrowers except at full rates and to such parties as within the letter of the law, so far as reserve is concerned, but their recent reports show that what is "reserve" is nothing but an investment bearing a high rate of interest, and that so far as actual circulating money reserves is concerned they are dangerously short. As the Treasury is steadily pursuing its funding and contraction, and will from this time on increase its disbursing force so far as contraction is concerned, it is evident that the national banks must also contract, or make weekly reports showing them to be violating the letter of the law. The Report of Monday promises to show a decrease of loans of $1,500,000 in deposits of $4,000,000, and in legal tenders of $3,400,000.

—Though the 1st of April, with its extraordinary demands, has passed, it is believed that the future requirements of the country cannot fail to disturb the market, and to keep money well up in price and in active demand. The payment of the May interest on the 5-20s will set forth a large amount of gold, and give employment to legal tenders now at 60 cents on the coin dollar. This disturbing element of gold interest removed, further activity in money will be produced by the payment of dividends, which, passing from bank reserve into permanent investments, will force the banks to contract, or to contract as far as they within the letter of the law so their reserve dis-pprears can only be effected through a liquidation by bank borrowers, ending in a reduction in prices for commodities sufficient to bring the business of the country within the control of the steadily decreasing amount of currency.—Phila. Ledger.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 9, 1867.

There was a fair degree of activity manifested in the produce markets to-day, the volume of business, in the aggregate, being about up to the usual standard. In some articles, Flour especially, there is some excitement, and holders are not inclined to sell very liberally, being apprehensive that they cannot replace, but generally speaking, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Wheat is in limited supply, and there are no established prices. Oats firm and in fair demand; may be quoted at 80@85c, on track, and 90@95c, in store. Corn, Barley is wanted at $1.15. Rye is scarce, and could doubtless be sold readily at $1.50. Corn is firm, and prime Yellow may be quoted at $1.

FLOUR—Market firm, but prices compared with Monday, are no higher. We continue to quote as follows: Extra Spring Wheat; $15 to $16 for Winter Wheat, and $17 to $18 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $8.50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady, with regular jobbing sales of 10 to 10½ for Shoulders; Rings 12 to 12½ for Rings and 12½ to 13 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 13 to 13½, and Mess Pork, $23.50.

SEEDS—Government is firm with sales at $11.50 to $12. Timothy Seed is quiet but steady at $3 to $3.25. Flaxseed is in active demand at $2.85.

BUTTER—There is a steady demand for prime to choice Roll, but common Butter is dull and in good supply. We continue to quote the former at 35c to 40c.

EGGS—Steady with regular sales at 23.

MILL FEED—No sales reported for several days—last quotations, $1.30 for Brans; $1.60 for Seconds; and $1.90 to $2 for Middlings.

GREEN APPLES—scarce and in demand; we continue to quote at $5 to 6 per barrel, for good to choice.

POTATOES—There is a continued fair demand, and prime Peach Blows are selling at 90c to 95c.

OIL—Lard Oil is in fair demand and firm at $1.10 for No. 1, and 90c for No. 2.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull but unchanged; Apples, 8@9c to 9c, and Peaches are 15c for quarters, and 15c for halves—small sales at a slight advance.

HAY—Quiet and unchanged. Sale of cars fair quality, at $25, delivered—prime may be quoted at $24 to $25.

BRANS—Regular sales of prime small white at $2.75 per bush.

FREIGHTS.

There is a lively competition in progress between the railroads running East from Chicago, on live-stock, and rates of freight have been reduced to 30c per 100 lbs to Buffalo, and 25c to Pittsburgh, some roads giving passes each way, and others only one way. The worst feature about the whole matter is the fact that there is no stability in regard to rates, as they are liable to be changed at any time, and drovers buying in the west for shipment east, are, to use a common expression, "operating in the dark."

CATTLE.

The supply of cattle was much larger this week than last, and while there was but very few eastern buyers in attendance, the market, nevertheless, was a good one, the butchers buying very freely, and there was quite a spirited demand for stock cattle. We continue to quote at 8 to 9c, gross, for good to choice fat cattle; 7c to 7½c for medium, and 5½c to 6½c for medium to good stockers. The sales, in the aggregate this week, foot up nearly eight hundred head, against less than five hundred last week, and there were but few left over unsold.

SHEEP.

The market was fairly active for this class of stock, the demand being fully up to the supply, and prices a trifle firmer. Sheep sold at from 7¼ to 8¾ gross. Scattering good is reported as having sold 100 head to Hines at $7 per head, and 50 head to another buyer at 8c—both lots very common. Emerick & Co. sold 18 head at 6¾. Kerwin sold 52 head to Heyl at 5¾. There were a number of sales effected, the particulars of which we were unable to learn, but as already noted, prime to extra refalling Sheep sold at from 7¼ to 8¾.

HOGS.

Market quiet and unchanged—the demand at these yards is restricted entirely to supplying the wants of the retail trade. Emerick & Co. report having retailed 84 head, on Monday, at 8 to 9c, gross, as to quality and condition.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Glass & Lafferty sold 36 head of good retailing cattle at 7¾ to 8¾; 20 head of stockers, averaging 900 lbs, at 5¾; 21 head, averaging 900, at 6.10; and 10 head, averaging 600, at 5¾—35 left over. Ayes sold 20 head stock steers at 5.90; and 11 head at 5¾. Carr & McAllister sold 16 head of Illinois cattle at 8 to 8¾—1 at 9¼. Hazlewood and Blackstock, 36 head at 7¾ to 8¾. Yerner & Hartman, 36 head at 7¾ to 8¾. Kerwin sold one pair of show cattle to Peter Farley at a fraction less than 10 cts—weighed 4550. Merrick and Dowd sold 30 head of good cattle to Shamberg at 8¾; retailed 18 head at 7 to 7¾. Marks & Traurman sold 122 head at 6 to 6¾ for stockers, and 7.10 to 8.75 for good to extra retailing cattle. Rothchilds, 28 head at 7 to 8¾. Kraus & Haas, 54 head at 7¾ to 8¾. Sinkpaugh, 10 head at 7¼ to 8. Greenwald & Kahn, 37 head, at 7.50 to 8.50. Myers & Needy sold 122 head, including 30 head to Shatz & Hosg (butchers) at 8.90.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 9, 1867.

CRUDE—The market for Crude was comparatively quiet to-day, the sales being light, in the aggregate, but, if anything, there seemed to be a little stronger feeling, and prices a fraction better. Sale of 1000 bbls, on spot, at 6¾; 1500 to arrive, at 6¾; 1000 to arrive, at 6¾, and 137 bbls, on spot, at 6⅞, bbls to be returned. We are cognizant of an offer to buy for May at 7¼. it seems that the sale of five thousand barrels reported on Monday, at 6¾, was equal to 6¾ when the fact that the buyer is to furnish boats is taken into consideration, and this, we may remark, puts quite a quite a different face on the operation. The arrivals are falling off, though it is believed that one hundred and fifty thousand barrels will have reached here by the time the rivers gets down to a low water stage.

REFINED—There was but a single sale reported to-day, 500 bbls, standard white, for July, on private terms. The market presents no new characteristics where is special notice, and the fact that attributed little or nothing doing may be ters are to the fact that buyers feelings. Prime apart in their views ay be quoted at 25½ light straw to white, indelphia, and standard white, delivered in Pittsburgh on Monday at dard white at Sara's works, for standard 21½, on board.

WHITE ASH—The following arrivals of oil AR reported to-day:

New York Financial Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—The money market is easy all day at 7 on call with a moderate demand. Discounts, at 7@8 for prime paper; lower grades neglected. The receipts of currency from the interior are liberal, and the government continues to distribute freely. Gold is active to-day, but declined under continued sales by government and an advance in two bankers' bills on London. Gold is plenty, and loans were made flat at the close of the day. Governments were quiet but steady. Exchange is firm, closing with bankers' bills at 109¾@110; commercial, 108¾@109. Gold 135¾@135⅞. Sterling firm but business quite moderate.

Railway speculation opened with a boom but after an hour or two the market became weak under the attempts to make its last annual report show profits not warranted by a fair statement of its construction expenses, and the reduction of its supplies. A new impetus has been given to the 10 per cent dividend paid under the stimulus of the "Morse mania" in the stock, were not warranted by profits. The road will also do well if it pays 7 per cent while increasing its stock with no corresponding gain in its net income."

The same paper also says: It is plain that the banks as a whole are in no condition to expand or to offer any facility to borrowers except at full rates and to such parties as within the letter of the law, so far as reserve is concerned, but their recent reports show that what is "reserve" is nothing but an investment bearing a high rate of interest, and that so far as actual circulating money reserves is concerned they are dangerously short. As the Treasury is steadily pursuing its funding and contraction, and will from this time on increase its disbursing force so far as contraction is concerned, it is evident that the national banks must also contract, or make weekly reports showing them to be violating the letter of the law. The Report of Monday promises to show a decrease of loans of $1,500,000 in deposits of $4,000,000, and in legal tenders of $3,400,000.

—Though the 1st of April, with its extraordinary demands, has passed, it is believed that the future requirements of the country cannot fail to disturb the market, and to keep money well up in price and in active demand. The payment of the May interest on the 5-20s will set forth a large amount of gold, and give employment to legal tenders now at 60 cents on the coin dollar. This disturbing element of gold interest removed, further activity in money will be produced by the payment of dividends, which, passing from bank reserve into permanent investments, will force the banks to contract, or to contract as far as they within the letter of the law so their reserve dis-ppears can only be effected through a liquidation by bank borrowers, ending in a reduction in prices for commodities sufficient to bring the business of the country within the control of the steadily decreasing amount of currency.—Phila. Ledger.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 9, 1867.

There was a fair degree of activity manifested in the produce markets to-day, the volume of business, in the aggregate, being about up to the usual standard.
